Don't miss a second of MotoGP: ServusTV extends its live coverage from the Sachsenring

- Highlight for fans: ServusTV to show all the MotoGP practice sessions live on free TV
- Extensive coverage of all three World Championship classes, live and in full HD

Munich. MotoGP fans may not be able to watch the LIQUI MOLY Motorcycle Grand Prix of Germany (18th to 20th June 2021) live at the Sachsenring this year, but there is no need for them to miss a second of the action. ServusTV is extending its live coverage of the German Grand Prix and will now show the MotoGP free practice sessions on free-to-air TV. As such, ServusTV will broadcast all the MotoGP sessions live from the Sachsenring, from the first free practice session to the Grand Prix on Sunday.

For fans of the Sachsenring, the Grand Prix weekend kicks off with the first two practice sessions in the Motorcycle World Championship at 09:50 and 14:05 on Friday 18th June. Free practice three will be broadcast at 09:50 on the Saturday, followed at 12:25 by qualifying for the pinnacle of motorcycle racing. On Sunday, the live ServusTV coverage begins at 10:00. The MotoGP race, which forms the highlight of the LIQUI MOLY Motorcycle Grand Prix of Germany 2021 at the Sachsenring, gets underway at 14:00.
