ADAC GT Masters and Remus set up partnership

- The ADAC GT Masters has gained another famous company as partner
- The logo of the global leader for sports exhaust will be displayed on vehicles' on-board plates

Munich: The ADAC GT Masters has gained another high-calibre partner in Remus. The global leader in the market for sports exhaust systems is now set to become involved in the Super Sports Car League. The company's distinctive logo will appear on the on-board plates of the 30+ vehicles in the race series. The ADAC GT Masters will get its 14th season under way at the Lausitzring this weekend (31st July to 2nd August). SPORT1 will broadcast both races live and in full. Racing can also be watched online as livestream at sport1.de, adac.de/motorsport and youtube.com/adac.

"We would like to extend a warm welcome to Remus, our new partners in the ADAC GT Masters," said Thomas Voss, Head of ADAC Motorsport and Classic. "Remus are a company with a great motor racing tradition and have been major players in motorsport for 30 years. It's great to have such a famous brand join us as partners."

"We are delighted to be joining forces with the ADAC GT Masters," said Stephan Zöchling, CEO of Remus. "Motorsport has always played an important role in the history of Remus, since for many years, we at Remus have transferred know-how gained at the racetrack, which is an extremely tough testing environment, for sure, directly to the road. And in the ADAC GT Masters, the focus is on qualities that perfectly match those found at Remus – reliability, robustness and top performance."

About Remus

Remus Innovation GmbH was founded in 1990 and just five years later, after enjoying a meteoric rise to fame, had succeeded in becoming a global leader in the world of sports exhaust manufacturers. Remus now has approximately 1,000 employees and a production site of 40,000 square metres to serve the world market for exhaust systems. Apart from all the big names in the tuning industry, many famous premium vehicle manufacturers, including Mercedes-AMG, Porsche, Bentley, McLaren, Aston Martin, BMW and Ducati are among the OEM customers of Remus Innovation GmbH. Over 90 percent of production is exported to more than 60 countries around the world, and that figure is set to increase.
