- Full fan experience at the DEKRA Lausitzring
- Open paddock with Meet the Drivers, pit walks and race simulators
- Tickets on the gate for spontaneous visitors

Klettwitz. The fans are back in the German GT Championship paddock at the DEKRA Lausitzring, and have more to explore than ever before on Saturday and Sunday. The new eBay Fan Tower offers a spectacular experience, while the eBay Box in the pit lane is guaranteed to give you goosebumps. Visitors can get really close to the super sports cars on the pit walk, while the autograph sessions provide an opportunity for selfies with the ADAC GT Masters drivers. On top of all this, fans can test their own racing skills in the eSports Simulator. Tickets prices for ADAC GT Masters start at € 22.50 for members (€ 25 for non-members), while admission is free for children aged 12 and under. Tickets are available online at adac.de/tickets or on the gate.

New crowd favourites: eBay Tower and eBay Box

A highlight, in every sense of the word: the new eBay Tower on the infield. Spectators can follow the action on the track from a unique viewpoint, nine metres off the ground – and at no extra charge. The viewing platform was erected by ADAC GT Masters partner Megaforce and offers a new view of turn one from the paddock.

Spectators are in the thick of the action in the eBay Box in the pit lane (garage 29). From here, fans can watch the teams at work in the pit lane, up close and personal. The latest episode of the online show “ADAC GT Masters Backstage – live from the eBay Motors garage” will be broadcast from here from 11:30 on Sunday.

The eSports Simulator allows you to discover for yourself just how strenuous driving a super sports car in the ADAC GT Masters can be. The RaceRoom simulators, with the simulation used in the ADAC GT Masters eSports Championship powered by EnBW mobility+, can be found at the ADAC Hospitality in the paddock.

Open pit lane, autograph sessions and PS on Air

During the pit walk (Saturday 12:50 and 18:30, and Sunday 13:45), spectators can watch the teams preparing their super sports cars from the pit lane itself. From 12:20 on Saturday, the Meet the Drivers session in front of the ADAC Hospitality is the perfect opportunity to grab an autograph. From 20:00, the online show PS on Air – the Ravenon ADAC GT Masters Talk will be broadcast from the open pit lane. Anyone who wants to can watch the live programme. Presenter Patrick Simon will be joined by guests to analyse the highlights of race one in the German GT Championship.
