Media Service for the German GT Championship at the Sachsenring

- Video press conferences on three days
- New info service via Signal messenger app
- Media Guides for all series available online

Munich. The German GT Championship travels to the demanding Sachsenring this weekend (1st to 3rd October) for the fifth race weekend of the season. As usual, we will provide you with extensive information on the races at the undulating track near Chemnitz. For the first time, this offering will include a new info service via the secure Signal messenger app. On all three days, video press conferences will ensure you know all the background to the ADAC GT Masters races. These kick off with the Friday press conference (12:30) with championship leader Ricardo Feller (Audi, Montaplast by Land-Motorsport), local favourite Maximilian Paul (Lamborghini, T3 Motorsport) from Dresden, and defending champion Christian Engelhart (Porsche, K us Team Bernhard). As well as the German GT Championship, the programme at the Sachsenring also features ADAC GT4 Germany, with the strongest field of the season so far, ADAC TCR Germany and ADAC Formula 4. Below you will find some useful information to help you with your reporting on the ADAC GT Masters.
