Munich. The level of interest in the ADAC GT Masters remains high. Dinamic Motorsport will be the latest team to make its debut in the German GT Championship when it makes a guest appearance at round five of the season. The Italian team will line up with Klaus Bachler (31/AUT) and Adrien De Leener (33/B) in a Porsche 911 GT3 R in races nine and ten, which feature as part of the Family & Friends Festival at the DEKRA Lausitzring. TV partner NITRO is broadcasting the ADAC GT Masters races live from 12:30 on Saturday and Sunday.

The team from Reggio Emilia in northern Italy was formed in 2011 by Maurizio Lusuardi, since when it has primarily raced in Porsche one-make cups. Dinamic Motorsport made its debut in the GT World Challenge in 2019 and is also active in the 24H Series. The team can now add the ADAC GT Masters to the list of top series it has started in over the course of its history. “We will have the opportunity to get to know the series and acquire valuable data. Furthermore, we are also looking into a possible involvement in 2023,” says Team Manager Giuliano Bottazzi. The team has selected two experienced ADAC GT Masters drivers for its guest start at the DEKRA Lausitzring. Both Klaus Bachler and Adrien De Leener have already driven in the German GT Championship and can look back on almost 150 races between them.

Adrien De Leener: “First of all, I am really looking forward to driving in the ADAC GT Masters, and particularly to starting with Dinamic Motorsport and alongside Klaus. We enjoyed some good results together in 2018. As always, the standard of opposition in this championship will be very strong, as the quality of the teams and drivers is first-class. This is the first appearance in the ADAC GT Masters for Dinamic Motorsport, and the team is preparing meticulously for its debut. Klaus has driven on the new Pirelli tyres already this year, so we should have a good basis for the weekend. We will do our best to get the most out of this opportunity and achieve a good result for the team.”

As well as spectacular motorsport, visitors to the Family & Friends Festival can also look forward to a unique mix of technological highlights, fun, shows, presentations, and a glimpse behind the scenes of the DEKRA Lausitzring. Fascinating experience worlds can be discovered across the entire site and are easily accessible via a shuttle service. Music fans are also in for a real treat. German DJ duo “Gestört aber geil” will ensure there is a great atmosphere on the Saturday evening. Tickets at unbeatable prices, starting at € 5, are available online at adac.de/motorsport. Admission to the entertaining event is free for children under 16 when accompanied by an adult.
