ADAC GT Masters expands its TV and streaming coverage in 2025

- ADAC GT Masters presents its biggest TV and streaming offer yet
- SPORT1 to broadcast ADAC GT Masters races live on free-to-air TV
- Streaming app Joyn to show all ADAC GT Masters races live and on demand

Munich. Good news for all fans of the ADAC GT Masters: the TV and streaming service for German speakers is being expanded significantly, making it bigger than ever before.

TV station SPORT1 remains the Free TV Partner of the ADAC GT Masters in 2025. The multi-channel platform will broadcast selected races live on free-to-air TV, as well as streaming all the races live at SPORT1.de. With live broadcasts of all the races on the free streaming platform Joyn, the media presence of the ADAC GT Masters has been ramped up again for the 2025 season. All twelve races can also be seen free of charge on streaming platform ServusTV On. All the races are also available with English commentary on the ADAC Motorsport YouTube channel. The ADAC GT Masters will also enjoy plenty of coverage internationally in 2025. The races are shown live or replayed in full in 120 countries around the world. The new ADAC GT Masters season gets underway from 23rd to 25th May at the Dekra Lausitzring, where it features on the DTM platform.

The partnership with SPORT1 enters another season, as the long-term cooperation with the sports broadcaster from Munich continues in 2025. The ADAC GT Masters races will be shown live on the station's various channels, offering young drivers an ideal media platform, as well as a great sporting event.

With over 60 TV stations, the free streaming service Joyn, which is owned by ProSiebenSat.1, boasts a huge selection and makes online TV easier than ever. For the first time, Joyn will show all the ADAC GT Masters races live in 2025. Together with live broadcasts of the DTM and ADAC GT4 Germany, Joyn is the perfect streaming platform for all motorsport fans. All races can also be accessed on demand later in the extensive media library.

Rounding off the comprehensive streaming portfolio for the ADAC GT Masters is ServusTV. All races can also be seen live on the free platform ServusTV ON. Furthermore, all the races are shown live with English commentary on the YouTube channel @adacmotorsports, where fans can also find highlights after the races.
