Accreditation open for the ADAC GT Masters

- Individual and permanent accreditation for the 2022 season available now

Season 16 of the ADAC GT Masters gets underway from 22nd to 24th April at Motorsport Arena Oschersleben. Just three weeks before the start of the opening race, the field for the German GT Championship will assemble for the first time at the official pre-season test, which takes place in Oschersleben from 4th to 6th April.

Media representatives can now apply for permanent and individual accreditations. This is only possible online at <https://akkreditierung.adac-motorsport.de>. Detailed accreditation guidelines can be found in the ADAC Motorsport accreditation portal. The documents required for a season accreditation must be submitted by no later than 28.03.2022. Deadlines for individual accreditations are listed in the overview below. The season accreditation also includes accreditation for the pre-season test. More information on the official test will follow shortly.

Depending on official regulations, local conditions and our hygiene and infection prevention concept, it may be necessary to restrict the number of media representatives working on site. We will inform you of any requirements and conditions for the individual events in good time.

Media accreditations for the ADAC GT Masters do not entitle the bearer to record moving images. TV and film teams require a TV filming permit. If you have any queries regarding national and international filming permits, or scheduled broadcasts on online portals, please contact:
