Start of accreditation process for the 2019 ADAC Formula 4

- Accreditation for the ADAC GT Masters, ADAC Formula 4, ADAC TCR Germany and ADAC GT4 Germany gets underway

Munich: Media representatives can now apply for permanent accreditation and accreditation on a meeting-by-meeting basis for the new ADAC Formula 4 season starting in April, as well as for the ADAC GT Masters, the ADAC TCR Germany and the new ADAC GT4 Germany.

This is only possible online at adac-motorsport.de/akkreditierung. Media representatives from print, online and radio as well as photographers are asked to submit requests for accreditation online. Detailed guidelines about accreditation can also be found on our website there. You must submit all documents required to become accredited for the full season by 1st April at the latest.

An additional accreditation pass is needed with regard to the Media Day for the ADAC GT Masters, ADAC Formula 4, ADAC TCR Germany and ADAC GT4 Germany. The Media Day, including press conference for the 2019 season, will take place on 8th April during official ADAC GT Masters preseason testing at the Motorsport Arena Oschersleben. Further information about the Media Day is to follow.

You can also now apply to become accredited on a meeting-by-meeting basis for the six ADAC Formula 4 meetings taking place under the banner of the ADAC GT Masters. The deadlines are as set out below.

Please note that separate accreditation is required for the two Formula 4 races to be held during the F1 Mercedes Benz German Grand Prix. The permanent media passes for the ADAC Formula 4/ADAC GT Masters are not valid for Formula 1. If you plan to report on the ADAC Formula 4 within the context of Formula 1, please submit your application for accreditation in good time.

Media representatives from the national media (German print media, photographers, picture agencies, radio and online media) please submit applications for accreditation to Martina Rathmann / KHP Consulting (martina.rathmann@khpconsulting.com).

Media representatives from international print media (German and international news agencies, photographers, picture agencies and online media) must submit their applications for accreditation online via the FIA website at fia.com/media.

Press accreditation does not entitle the holder to record moving pictures. TV and film crews require a separate TV filming permit. Please direct enquiries for national and international TV filming permits as well as for broadcasts you plan to make via online portals to:
